- Additional benefits indexed to minimum wage.
- Free passes on Saskatchewan government owned transportation systems on request.

ENVIRONMENT

- Firmness and fairness in enforcement of environmental affairs
- Opposed to Churchill River Hydro Project
- New environmental study of Poplar River Project

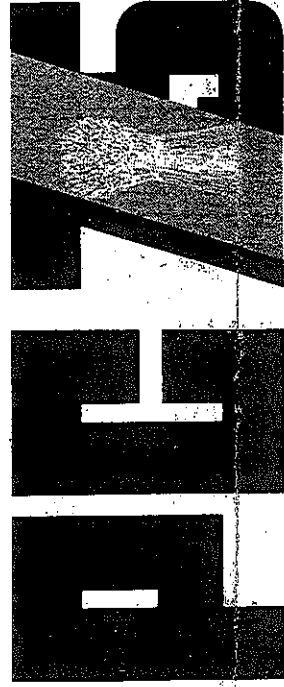

HEALTH & WELFARE

- Administration of provincial welfare funds at the local level.
- A drug plan developed with the co-operation of the pharmaceutical industry.
- Any new plans to be published well before legislation to encourage study and discussion.
- Develop a co-operative rapport between doctor, patient and government.
- No hospital closures without prior consultation and approval of local community.

DECENTRALIZATION

- Committed to strong and viable locally elected government.
- All grants to municipalities unconditional.
- All grants to school boards unconditional.
- Northern municipal councils should have more control over northern affairs.

It would require a great deal of space to outline our platform or to describe fully what the steps would be to provide the items listed here. These are some of the things we stand for, written briefly. On the inside you will find the name of your local candidate. Call or take a minute to complete and send in the coupon. We'd like to hear from you.

YOUR

PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE PARTY OF SASKATCHEWAN STANDS FOR:

A heritage of freedom based on individual honour, integrity and individual moral responsibility.
Equal rights under the law for ALL, without discrimination.

Government as the servant, not the master.

Social progress based on the needs of the people, not as a means to power.

Attention to the youth of Saskatchewan... their needs, their future, subjects which are close to the heart of leader - Dick Collier.

AGRICULTURE

- A true Bank for Land policy to ensure orderly transfer of land.
- Land held by Land Bank made available for sale.
- Irrigated lands made available for sale and lease with real option to buy.
- Support maintenance of Crow rates.
- Oppose wholesale rail line abandonment.
- Consistency of compensation rates for diseased cattle.

INDUSTRY & COMMERCE

- Individual enterprise and Saskatchewan owned industry encouraged.
- Secondary industry encouraged to develop, especially in industries naturally adaptable to Saskatchewan, such as food processing and machine assembly.
- Taxpayers money should not be used to purchase already existing and successful competitive businesses.

LABOUR

- Legislation that is fair to both labour and management.
- Equality in jobs and wages for work done.
- New labour legislation only upon consultation.
- Encourage profit-sharing plans.
- Encourage constructive co-operation, not confrontation.

NORTHERN SASKATCHEWAN

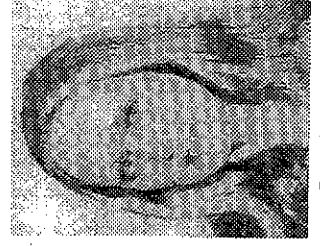

- Northern municipal councils should have more control over northern affairs.
- Job opportunities through industries with proper environmental safeguards.
- Provide, wherever possible, the same services in transportation, communication and health care as the rest of Saskatchewan receives.

EDUCATION

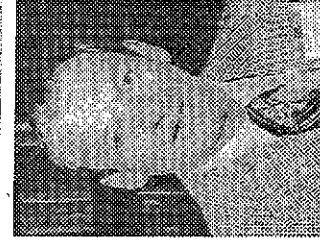

- Recognize parents as prime educators of their children.
- Encourage lay input on curriculum committees.
- Emphasize basic skills.
- No further centralization of schools or alterations of jurisdictional boundaries against the wishes of local rate payers.
- End control by Provincial Government of Universities in Saskatchewan.

DICK COLLVER

A MAN FOR ALL REASONS
LEADER OF THE PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE
PARTY OF SASKATCHEWAN

Dick Collver, since becoming leader, has travelled to every constituency in the province. He has visited cities, hamlets, towns, and villages talking to large and small audiences, chatting on endless street corners and visiting hundreds of farms. He desires to know the thoughts and opinions of the Saskatchewan people and in turn wants to express his opinions on the future of the province. He is a man who listens.

For those of you who have not had the opportunity to meet Dick let us tell you about him and his family.

FAMILY

Dick and Eleanor make their home in Saskatoon. It's usually an active atmosphere with two teenage daughters, Lee Anne in Grade XII and Paula in Grade X, and a ten year old son, Mark. Dick is constantly reminded of the energy and vitality of youth. He firmly believes that young people are our greatest resource and that it is our job as parents to provide them with the opportunities to live and work in their own province.

WORK

Dick is a management consultant who came to Saskatchewan with a degree in Economics from the University of Alberta. He is the owner of his own management consulting firm based in Saskatoon.

COMMUNITY

Dick is the founder and director of the Kidney Research Foundation of Saskatchewan. He is a member of the Saskatoon Board of Trade and Patron of the Saskatoon Symphony Orchestra. He (and his family) attend the Baptist Church.

POLITICS

Dick Collver, at the age of 37, became the leader of the Progressive Conservative Party of Saskatchewan in March of 1973. He has built a provincial organization that has nominated a full slate of candidates. His organizational ability and his desire to develop new and effective policy have won him the respect of all who know him.

COLLVER LEADS FULL SLATE IN '75

Saskatchewan Progressive Conservative Leader, Dick Collver, is leading a group of diversified and talented individuals into the next provincial election. Recognizing that the other two political parties were often dominated by one particular occupational group, the Progressive Conservatives have nominated a full slate of candidates that encompass most groups in Saskatchewan society.

In his speech that night, the young leader commented on the broad representation of the Progressive Conservative candidates,

"Farmers, businessmen, doctors, lawyers, teachers, blue collar workers, university professors, sales representatives, are running as candidates for our party. Men and women of all ages are represented. Surely this is good for the province for no one group dominates and the province will be governed by people who make their living the same way you and I do. No one has to worry that one segment of society may control the political party for we are a party that represents their groups plus many others."

It marked the first time in party history that all candidates have been nominated before the election writ and the first time in 15 years that the Progressive Conservatives have fielded a full slate.

A rousing welcome and a standing ovation by party supporters greeted the party leader, Dick Collver, at the 61st convention in Regina. It was a tribute to his dynamic leadership and his determination. It was a significant and satisfying event for him, for it fulfilled a promise he had made at the leadership convention in March of 1973.

Your Progressive Conservative Party believes that the talent and energy exemplified by the candidates to date is going to ensure an election victory. We are attempting to heal the social scars left by the other political parties in the province who practice the theory of divide and rule. Candidates throughout Saskatchewan are asking that we forget the confrontation politics that set labor against management, teacher against trustee, doctor against government, and develop a positive approach that will bring the people of Saskatchewan together.
